We extend a sincere and heartfelt THANK YOU to all those who took part in the Dispersion of the Basin Angus Cow Herd, and especially to those customers who have invested in the Basin Angus program in the past. These cattle will continue to have an impressive and positive impact on our industry as they make their new homes in quality Angus operations throughout North America.

Over the last several years a number of factors led me to the extremely difficult decision to sell the cow herd, and list the ranch for sale. But rest assured that these decisions have not changed our goal of providing the best Angus cattle possible to the industry.

I need to thank my wife Sharon and my children for their patience and support throughout this journey, as well as my mother, Marian and sister and brother-in-law, Valerie and Clint Carr. I also need to thank our employees, who I consider an extension of my family, for their decades of loyalty, dedication, and teamwork.

Although we have been fortunate to have surrounded ourselves with the immense talent and dedication of a remarkable team of employees, partners and family, it is our customers that have directed the course of our program. My father, Wayne Stevenson felt that serving the needs of the customer was paramount, and time was best spent applying sound, practical production practices to deliver genetics and services that make our customers more successful. The scope, reputation, and success of the Basin program are a direct result of that relationship with our customers.

Today we cannot predict the exact course our lives will take, but you can be sure that continuing to assist the Basin customer will be a part of whatever we do moving forward. We thank you for allowing us that opportunity.

Best Wishes to you and yours for a Happy Holiday Season and a Blessed and Prosperous New Year.

Thank you,

Doug Stevenson
